The President Speaks . . .

It is true that a few large gifts would equal many small ones; but it is also true that in the aggregate it is the many small gifts that produce a total in excess of the large ones. This ought to furnish a great encouragement when there does not exist an access to great accumulations of wealth. Let us all take courage and do our best as we realize the amazing source of help for the College in the cumulation of small gifts. Most of all, let none of us hesitate to offer his gift. The College continues to teach that the one obligation on each of us is not to equal the effort of some one else but each to do his best.

Second, you may possibly help the College more by sending a good student than by a gift of money.

This is true not only because good students bring character and scholarship to the campus and help to perpetuate the best traditions which the alumni have fostered, but also because it is a simple matter of record that in the aggregate the student fees constitute the major source of income to the colleges.

It is assuredly true that the fees themselves are not sufficient to pay for all that the colleges offer, but the fees themselves are more than half the income of all the colleges and universities of the country.

The demand for financial assistance in the depression years has sadly depleted in all colleges of course the net income from student fees. It was discovered in 1936 that the total amount of financial assistance given by the Pennsylvania colleges and universities just about equalled the endowment income of these same institutions. In that year over four million dollars were given by these colleges to twenty-two thousand students. This indicates how largely the colleges, often through the sacrifices of the faculty, are carrying the burden of the depression years.

If, therefore, the alumni could send to the College a student body largely able to pay its way the institution could forge ahead more rapidly. I want to take occasion to commend our alumni for taking advantage this year of the privilege of recommending exceptional students to us. At this writing the dormitory reservations are practically all taken on the women's side and the new dormitory for men has scarcely a vacancy. In fact we now have rooms for only a few more resident students.

Do all of our alumni appreciate what we have to offer here as a result of the growth and toil of the past years? I believe that even those who have seen the campus as recently as last commencement do not fully appreciate this if they have not examined one of our late catalogues with its new form and its reorganized curriculum of offerings. Many of you I know live in happy memories of days when life here was simpler, but I hope not more happy or profitable. We want you all to know better the Juniata of today and to help us build substantially and beautifully for the Juniata of tomorrow.

Alumni Support . . .

Many have been the regrets expressed by loyal alumni during the progress of our development program that they were not able to do more to help the College at this time. To the extent that this has hindered them from making any gift at all it has been unfortunate, because it has given to others a wrong impression of the loyalty of our alumni. Not the size of the gift primarily, but its quality measured by personal interest and devotion is the real criterion. This cannot but be clear to those of us who recall the lesson of Sir Launfal.

One of the heartening facts of our program is the word of cheer that has at times accompanied the gift whether large or small. There are certainly but few who are really unable to contribute something, and not to do so not only delays the progress of the College but is not consistent with that regard for the Alma Mater which every alumnus would claim to cherish toward his college, I am sure.

Undoubtedly there are a number of our friends who would gladly give more largely if they were able to do so. To all such I would like to present two thoughts that may encourage them and at the same time may hearten us if our friends value their significance. They are suggested by a brief study recently published by President Marts of Bucknell University.

First, the largest gift to philanthropy is from folks with small incomes.

This is not guess work it is simple statistical fact culled from the record in The Measurement of America's Wealth, by Robert R. Doane. Here is the fact: sixty-eight (68) per cent of the more than two billion dollars paid to churches, hospitals, colleges and welfare agencies in one year came from those whose incomes were $3000 or less.

Commencement Passes in Review

Degrees Conferred

Sixty-eight graduates received the bachelor's degree at the Juniata College commencement exercises held in the court of the Cloister Monday morning, June 6.

Three honorary degrees were conferred by President Ellis. The Hon. John W. Kephart, Chief Justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court and speaker of the morning, was presented by Judge Chester D. Fetterhoof, an alumnus of Juniata and president judge of the courts of Huntingdon County. Justice Kephart received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Two other honorary degrees, both of Doctor of Divinity, were conferred upon prominent clergymen of the Church of the Brethren: the Rev. Ross D. Murphy, pastor of the First Church, Philadelphia, and the Rev. M. J. Brougher, pastor of the Greensburg Church. Both men are trustees of Juniata. Dr. Murphy was presented by Dr. Calvert N. Ellis, and Dr. Brougher by the Rev. Dr. W. J. Swigart.

Honors and Awards

Nine graduates received their diplomas with special academic recognition. The honor, magna cum laude, was given to John J. Overly of Tyrone. Samuel M. Livengood of Salisburg, Mary G. McKenzie and Mary Ruth Myers of Huntingdon, and Myrtle Minnich of Allentown won cum laude honors. Honorable mention for academic achievement was given D. Shelley Berkeley, Pittsburgh, Robert P. Epple, Altoona, S. Marcie Fike, Somerset, and Mary Stafford, Huntingdon.

Miss Catherine W. Miller, Zieglerville, was awarded the Justiena Marsteller Langdon prize of fifty dollars, given annually to the senior girl "who best exemplifies the spirit of helpfulness to others, gentleness of character and loyal devotion to the college," by the parents of the late Mrs. Langdon, Mrs. and Mrs. James F. Marsteller, of Bethlehem, Pa.

The Dr. Thaddeus Hyatt Cup, given for merit in "football, scholarship, and character," went to Robert E. Jenkins, of Six Mile Run. The cup is the annual gift of Dr. and Mrs. Hyatt, of Stamford, Conn.

REV. ROSS D. MURPHY

REV. M. J. BROUGHER

Recipients of Honorary Degree of Doctor of Divinity

To John J. Oberly, who led his class academically, went the Dr. Andrew B. Brumbaugh Science prize of seventy-five dollars. This prize is the gift of Dr. Gaius M. Brumbaugh, president of the Board of Trustees and son of the late Dr. A. B. Brumbaugh, and is awarded for outstanding work in the natural sciences.

Commencement Season Activities

Commencement season activities began on Friday evening, June 3, when the College Orchestral Society gave its concluding concert of the year under the direction of Samuel Turner Jones. Concertmistress was Lucile Rice Jones.

On the memory of the late Dr. I. Harvey Brumbaugh were centered the activities of Alumni Day, Saturday. The memorial services were presided over by Noah J. Brumbaugh who also made the principal address of the occasion, pointing out how the life of Dr. I. Harvey paralleled the life of the college. Telford B. Blough, instructor in the Eichelberger Senior High School, Hanover, and chairman of the class of 1927, presented a portrait of Dr. Brumbaugh to the college as a gift from his class.

The portrait was painted by Mrs. Bertha Stammler Townsend of Johnstown. It is a remarkable likeness in oils and is even more appreciated when it is realized that the artist had only a photograph from which to work.

Mrs. F. F. Holsopple, member of this year's golden anniversary class of 1888, spoke of her association with the late Dr. Brumbaugh. On the platform were other members of this class and other graduates of more than fifty years ago.

At the annual business meeting which preceded the memorial service, the present officers were elected for another year, as follows: Henry B. Gibbel, Lititz, president; Will Judy, Chicago, vice-president; Miss Rello Oller, Waynesboro, vice-president; and Telford B. Blough, Hanover, member of the executive committee for three years.

Joseph V. Kline, attorney of New York City and a member of the executive committee of the Alumni Association, was the principal speaker at the luncheon in the college dining hall at noon. His talk was followed by an address of welcome from President Ellis and recognition of the anniversary classes. Mrs. Townsend was introduced at this time.

Many of the alumni attended the baseball game in the afternoon and the tea of the Friends of the Library. The anniversary classes held reunions.

Class day exercises for the graduating class were held on Saturday evening in the delightful setting of the court of the Cloister. The principal event of the evening was the presenting of Shakespeare's comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing". Following the play were the traditional candle-lighting and mantel ceremonies.

President Ellis preached the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday morning, using as his title, "The Dynamic of a Great Conviction". On Sunday evening, the senior hymn ceremonies were held on Founders steps after which the academic procession went to Round

Top for vespers. The Rev. Dr. J. M. Blough, for more than thirty years a missionary to India, was the principal speaker. The Rev. Dr. F. F. Holsopple of Washington, D. C. and a former English professor at Juniata, led in prayer. Shelley Berkley '38 AB. was the student speaker. Sunday evening, the College Choir, under the direction of Prof. Charles L. Rowland, augmented to one hundred voices, presented Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation". Included as soloists were: Miss Olive Harley '36 BS, and William M. Blough '36 BS.

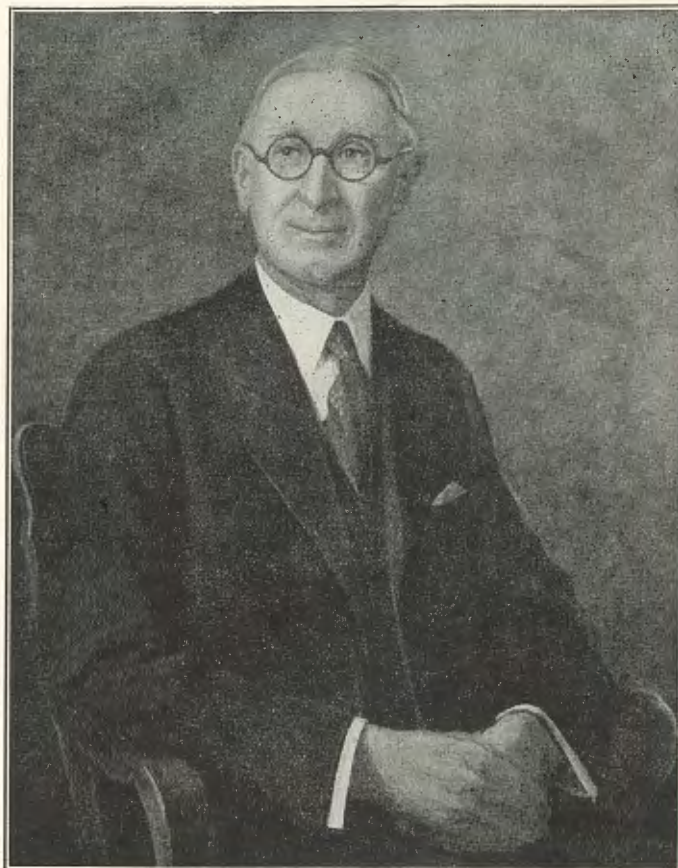

Commencement brought the announcement of the elevation of Dr. A. B. Bunn van Ormer to the status of professor emeritus. Dr. van Ormer has been a teacher at Juniata since 1917. His twenty years service had been marked by his unselfishness of effort and his kind, Christian spirit.

Memory of Dr. I. Harvey Brumbaugh Honored . . .

Telford Blough, representative from the Class of 1927, presented the portrait of Dr. I. Harvey Brumbaugh to the College at the memorial service, June 4. These were his words:

"When a man has given his life to Juniata College his memorial already is enshrined in the hearts of those who in truth call this their Alma Mater. What we say or do today can add but little to the lustre of that life which was so nobly lived as a Christian gentleman, teacher, and citizen. That something of his spirit may continue to smile upon the little college which he loved so well, that the alumni, faculty, students, and trustees may have their minds and hearts quickened and that uncounted generations of Juniadians will come to love him and appreciate his singular contribution to Juniata, the Class of 1927, the last class to know him affectionately as 'Prexy', takes great pleasure in presenting to the College this oil portrait of Dr. I. Harvey Brumbaugh by Bertha Stammler Townsend."

Noah J. Brumbaugh '88NE, who presided at the meeting, spoke of the parallelism between the life of Dr. Brumbaugh and the life of the College which he served. Also he told of the background of "I. Harvey's" religious ideals and philosophy of life. "I believe that if he could speak today he would testify that Bible teaching and preaching was his most important life work and likewise that the most important work for Juniata College, in competition with many larger and much more generously endowed colleges and universities, is the stressing of a distinctly Christian education, including the growth of the soul as well as the head."

I. HARVEY BRUMBAUGH
Portrait Presented by Class of 1927

Another beautiful tribute was paid by Mrs. Grace Quinter Holsopple '88NE, '91BS. In part, she said: "His youth was literally built into these walls and so he grew to manhood as upright and erect as the pines on the hills he loved. Your testimony and the scores of loving tributes which have come from far and near have proven that his blood has gone into the foundation of Juniata."

"It seems most fitting to me that this service should be held here and that his picture should rest on the walls of this Chapel. Here is where he came as a boy to receive his early inspiration and in later years gave out to hundreds of youth who came to him for counsel and guidance. It casts no reflection on other worthy members of the faculty who were his contemporaries to hear the expression from scores of Juniata students that Dr. I Harvey was their favorite teacher as well as exemplar. His very removal from your midst should be a call to a renewal of our loyalty to Juniata which he loved and for which he served."

President Charles C. Ellis accepted the portrait on behalf of the College. Two of Dr. Brumbaugh's favorite hymns, "Immortal Love" and "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life", were sung by a trio from the 1938 class: Marcia Fike, Roberta Weyant, and Jane Miller.

Juniata Host to Conferences During Summer

Psychology Institute

An Institute on Pennsylvania's Care of the Deficient and Delinquent was the main program of Alumni Week, July 19 to 24.

Sanford Bates, eminent criminologist who for many years was director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, was the outstanding speaker. On Friday evening, July 22, he addressed the Institute on the subject of "The Penology of the Future".

His points of advocacy were: the establishment of a sound parole system; the control of delinquency through probation, disassociated from any politics; the enforcement of the law by the prisons plus a fitting of the inmates for resumption of life outside; the employment of the most intelligent, scientific workers. He concluded with: "We must never fail to look beyond and through the prisons until we can see crime with all its ramifications."

Sanford Bates, at present, is executive secretary of the Boys' Clubs of America, an organization formed to help prevent delinquency in large cities. He is, by virtue of his long career as a federal executive, the most outstanding penologist in the United States.

Three women, distinguished for their work among Pennsylvania's deficient and delinquent, were speakers on Wednesday. Dr. Mary Wolfe and Dr. Mary Vanuxem told of their work at the Laurelton Village of which they are superintendents. The village is maintained for feeble-minded women. Superintendent Wilson of the Muncy Industrial Home for Women described her experiences with the delinquent.

Industrial School Gives Demonstration

The Pennsylvania Industrial School at Huntingdon gave a demonstration of a very unique character on Wednesday evening. The Classification Clinic of the School held their regular meeting and dealt with actual problems concerned with the care of the inmates of the institution. The procedure included the following: initial classification, re-classification (six months after admission), application for bonds of honor, consideration of length of program, review of parole plans.

Dr. William A. Jenny represented the State Conference on Social Work and spoke on Thursday morning on "The Juvenile Court". Dr. Jenny is former director of Kay House for Boys in Pittsburgh. A tour of the Pennsylvania Industrial School, was conducted that afternoon and a forum was held later.

Friday morning, Dr. F. A. McKenzie conducted a forum, entitled, "What Shall We Do About It?" Many interesting problems were discussed, most stimulating of which was concerned with the teacher's part in preventing delinquency.

The Institute was sponsored by the Alumni Association of the College together with four organizations of Huntingdon: the Civic Club, the Rotary, the Kiwanis Club, and the American Associations of University Women. The State Conference on Social Work and the State Council of Churches aided in sponsoring the Institute.

Dr. F. A. McKenzie, professor of sociology, planned the meetings. Much commendation is due him for his splendid efforts.

Music Conference

A conference of music leaders from the Church of the Brethren in eastern United States was held on the Juniata campus, June 21 to 26.

The conference was climaxed on Sunday evening, June 26, by a grand pageant, directed by Dr. H. Augustine Smith. Dr. Smith is head of the department of Fine Arts and Religion at Boston University. Seventy-five persons took part in the pageant, "The Light of the World"; the characters were chosen from those attending the conference, from the Juniata summer session students, and from members of the Huntingdon Church of the Brethren. Miss Ruth Barnhouse ex'38, who was a student this summer, took the leading role as "The Spirit of Christianity".

Nevin Fisher, head of the music department at McPherson College, Kansas, gave a lecture-recital on Thursday evening, June 23. He illustrated with piano compositions the best in religious and secular music.

Lectures were given during the sessions by the following instructors: Alvin Brightbill and W. M. Miley of Bethany Biblical Seminary in Chicago; Perry Huffaker, director of religious education, Church of the Brethren, Hagerstown, Md.; Miss Dorothea Beisser, of Harrisburg, instructor in piano and organ at the Juniata summer session; Rev. George L. Detweiler, pastor of the Stone Church of the Brethren, Huntingdon; Charles L. Rowland, of the Juniata faculty, who was director of the conference.

Professor William Beery, of Elgin, Illinois, was active in the work of the conference. Mr. Beery, a graduate in the class of 1882, was an instructor in vocal music at Juniata for many years. He was one of the three "orphans" who were forced to leave Huntingdon at the time of the small pox epidemic and seek a retreat at the Old Forge. At a picnic outing there during the conference week, Mr. Beery related the experiences he had in the early days of Juniata.

Miss Dorothea and Miss Valeria Beisser gave a most delightful musical program Thursday evening, July 21, in the College Chapel. The event was included in Alumni Week activities.

Miss Dorothea Beisser, who is a graduate of Oberlin Conservatory of Music and who has a private studio in Harrisburg, is instructor in piano and organ at the summer session. Her sister, Miss Valeria Beisser, is circulation manager of the Story Art Magazine and conducts a story hour over the radio.

The program which they presented was: Fantasia in C minor, No. XXIV, Mozart; story, "The Building of the Organ"; Intermezzi—Op. 119, No. 1, No. 2, Brahms; Rhapsodie—Op. 79, No. 1, Brahms; story, "What Happened to the Children in 'The Pied Piper of Hamelin'"; Clair de Lune, Debussy; Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy, Tchaikowsky; May Night, Palmgren; story, "Why the Cow Jumped Over the Moon".

Commencement for the summer session was held on Friday morning, August 12. Speaker for the occasion was Superintendent Guy Hartman of the Somerset County Public Schools.

Juniata's Sports Parade

PENNANT WINNING BASEBALL TEAM

Above are the members of the Juniata College baseball nine which this spring won the pennant of the Eastern Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Baseball League. Juniata came into possession of the League crown by defeating Muhlenberg, 8 to 6, on May 28. Previously they had tripped every League opponent they faced, including Ursinus, Drexel, and Albright.

Calb Roher, of Saltillo, Huntingdon County, a lanky southpaw standing six feet two, proved to be the pitching sensation of the entire League, being its only undefeated hurler. Captain Bob Jenkins, also of Huntingdon County, handled Roher very capably behind the bat and exerted great influence offensively as well.

Throughout the season, the Indians were a particularly heavy hitting club, running up such scores as 13 to 4, 16 to 5, and 13 to 5.

Pilgrimage to M. G. Brumbaugh's Grave Special Devotional Service

A pilgrimage to the grave of the late Martin Grove Brumbaugh was conducted on Friday afternoon, July 22, of Alumni Week.

Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, an honorary alumnus of Juniata, led the procession and delivered the eulogy. "Dr. Brumbaugh wanted to build a house on the top of Terrace Mountain where he could look out over the land he loved; it is our thought that he has gone to a higher realm where he can survey all beauty everywhere," Colonel Shoemaker said. The speaker is an editor, author, and publisher. Many of his books are concerned with the folk-lore and scenic beauties of Pennsylvania. He remarked about the number of speeches which he had heard Dr. Brumbaugh give about this State.

Rev. George Detwiler conducted the devotions. At the conclusion of the service, President Ellis read "Requiem"; by Robert Louis Stevenson.

The pilgrimage of alumni, friends, faculty, and students was especially impressed with the loveliness of the little cemetery near Marklesburg where Dr. Brumbaugh is buried. The fine setting of trees also adds to the beauty of the spot.

The pilgrimage proceeded to the Old Forge, a place connected with the early history of Juniata within the lifetime of Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

Summer Session Faculty

The personnel of the summer session's faculty included regular members of the staff augmented by instructors from other institutions.

Two Juniataans returned for the summer term: Paul Z. Rummel '25AB and E. Pearl Hess '22AB. Mr. Rummel is director of visual education in the public schools of Newtonville, Mass. At the same time, he is studying at Boston University. An authority on visual education, which he taught at Juniata this summer, Mr. Rummel holds degrees from the University of Pittsburgh and the Graduate School of Education, Harvard University. Miss Hess, from Chicago Heights, Illinois, was head librarian. After completing her course at Juniata, she continued with graduate study at Chicago University. At present, she is librarian of the Bloom Township High School at Chicago Heights.

Other visiting instructors were: Harold A. Conner, former professor at Juniata and now at New York University, instructor in economics and geography; Helen L. Crawford, English instructor in the William Penn Senior High School (York, Pa.) dean of women and instructor in English; Dr. Henry G. Bucher, supervising principal of the Lebanon Independent Boro High School, professor of secondary education; L. H. Brumbaugh, professor at Western Maryland College (Westminster, Md.), instructor in Bible and philosophy; Miss Dorothea Beisser, teacher of piano in Harrisburg, instructor in piano; Miss Olive Jacobs, of Brookville, instructor in art.

In addition to the director, Paul R. Yoder, the following members of the regular staff taught this summer: Dr. Charles S. Shively, mathematics; Prof. Charles L. Rowland, voice culture and public school music; Dr. F. A. McKenzie, sociology; Prof. H. H. Nye, history and government; Dr. Donald M. Rockwell, chemistry; Miss Beulah M. Woods, elementary education; Dr. Pressley L. Crummy, biology; George B. Clemens '36AB, French; Miss Betty K. Graybill '37AB, speech and play production; Miss Elisabeth Shoemaker '36AB, assistant librarian.

Faculty Members Take Vacations

Many of the Juniata faculty members are enjoying pleasant vacations this summer.

Dr. Harold C. Brinkley and his family spent some time in Livonia, N. Y., and then visited in Canada. Miss Miriam Fackler with Miss Catherine Roberts '31 AB had a delightful trip through the New England States. Pasadena, California, is the vacationing place of Mr. and Mrs. S. Turner Jones.

Trips abroad have profitably filled the summer months for Miss Margaret McCrimmon and Miss Lillian Harbaugh.

Further study in universities was the occupation of several other faculty members: Miss Gertrude Butler at Columbia University, Dr. Bertha Leaman at the University of Chicago, Miss Helen Madden at the Eastman School of Music, Mr. Glenn Gray at the University of Pittsburgh, and Mr. Morley Mays at the University of Chicago. Mr. Gray will continue his graduate study next winter at Columbia University, and Mr. Mays will also work for his doctor's degree at Chicago.

Miss Mary Dadisman is nursing in Chicago; Miss Eva Hartsler has accepted a position with the Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Home Economics in Washington, D. C.; Dr. E. S. Kiracofe taught at the University of Virginia; Miss Frances Mathias was dietitian at the University of North Carolina; Dean J. Clyde Stayer is business manager of Camp Kane-satake, Spruce Creek.

Hands Across the Sea

Mr. Gisuke Kumada of Honolulu, who was a student at the College in 1925-26 has not forgotten his Alma Mater. It was a great satisfaction to receive from him recently a contribution to the development program.

Mr. Kumada came to Juniata with an especial interest in astronomy which he studied under Doctor Shively. He now has a private observatory of his own. Last year he showed especial courtesy to Professor Calvin Bowman and Rev. John D. Ellis when they stopped in his city on their world tour.

Three Plays Given

Three one-act plays, under the direction of Miss Betty K. Graybill, were presented in the College Auditorium on Thursday evening, July 28.

The first play to be presented was Victor Mapes' "A Flower of Yeddo"; a Japanese comedy in which Sainara puts her lover to a test. The characters were: Musme, Helen Phillips; Taiphon, Dorothy McCaffrey; Sainara, Betty Cook; Kami, George Donnelly.

"So Long", by Leopold Atlas, takes place on the fire-escape of a New York tenement house. In this play, the role of Alex was enacted by Dan Geiser, and the role of Sophie by Mabel Mellroy.

A rural comedy, "Sparkin'", by E. P. Conkle, was the third play on the program. In this play, a timid young man goes courting and with the help of Grannie, finally comes to the point. The roles were as follows: Lessie, Beula Donnelly; Susan, Charlotte Mattern; Grannie, Helen Owens; Orry Sparks, Albert Carino.

A Note on the Portrait

The portrait on page 3 of the late Dr. I. Harvey Brumbaugh was presented to Juniata College by the class of 1927 at memorial services, June 4. It is an oil painting done by the well-known Johnstown artist, Mrs. Bertha Stammler Townsend. At the beginning of summer school, the portrait was hung on the wall of the College Chapel. For a great many years, Dr. Brumbaugh was director of the summer session and was working in that capacity at the time of his death, August 9, 1937.

..... Juniata

*On the banks of the blue Juniata,
On a hill that is sacred to me,
Where once roved the wild girl, Alfarata,
The bright Indian girl, gay and free;
On that hill skirted round by the river
Stands a college that's sharing its name;
So I sing in the name of the river,
Breaking forth in a loyal acclaim:*

*Juniata, my own ALMA MATER,
As on thee now in mem'ry I gaze,
I will sing thy dear name, Juniata
With a heart full of filial praise.*

*Many years have rolled on since it started,
The college that's set on a hill,
And the founders have long since departed,
But their sweet memory clings to it still;
For they thought and they wrought hard, undaunted,
In a cause that to them was of worth,
For the kind of a school that they wanted,
And rejoiced in the day of its birth.*

*I rejoice in the years of her growing,
In the buildings, curriculum, too,
In her enviable prestige o'erflowing,
In her faith in the Bible so true.
May the years of her time yet allotted
Be infilled with a wealth of success,
And may all of her life be unspotted,
And the fruit of her work but to bless.*

*In the high walks of life and profession
Her children are now in demand;
And her work suffers no retrogression,
But it equals the best in the land.
Now her doctors and lawyers are many,
And of teachers and ministers more
Who are fully efficient as any,
And they lag not behind, but are fore.*

*I remember with joy and with gladness
The days of my sojourning there;
Tho' perchance there were some days of sadness,
And for some maybe days of despair,
There was kindness and love from the teachers
To soothe and to comfort always;
There were friends, oh so many, and preachers,
Who proved sympathetic those days.*

*When I think of the scenes there abounding,
Of the beauty on every hill,
Of the grandeur of mountains surrounding,
It sets my whole being athrill.
So I'll cherish my dear ALMA MATER,
Her glory continue to sing;
To the name of my loved Juniata
Loud praises forever I'll bring.*

Alumni Solicitation Produces Results

Alumni cooperation in the student solicitation program this year has contributed many enrollments to the freshman class.

At the present time, freshman applications have been sufficient to fill the women's dormitories and a considerable number of the rooms in the men's dormitories have been reserved. On April 23, the day on which the competitive exams were given, and May 7, sub-freshman day, many prospective students visited the campus through the encouragement of Juniata alumni. Since that time, a high percentage of the visitors have enrolled for the fall term.

The following group of alumni and friends earnestly gave loyal support to these efforts,—many of whom brought students to the campus for the examination or sub-freshman day.

Names Omitted

In the last issue of the Alumni Bulletin names of alumni who have contributed to the Development Program were published. This list did not include the names of all contributors because many gifts came in through Huntingdon, Altoona, Special Gifts and Church Divisions. Names omitted from the alumni list were Mrs. Anna Wertz McNeish '32, Mrs. Lee Coffman '11, Mrs. Lee Tucker '28, and Raymond Ellis '15.

Who's Who Among the Juniata Alumni

1881—On July 28, REV. HOWARD KEIM of Nampa, Idaho visited the College campus. He was a special friend of the late Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh, and on one occasion he and Dr. Brumbaugh won a medal for the fastest three-legged race in Huntingdon County. Mr. Keim is retired from the meat packing business which is being carried on by his children. In addition to this, he was listed as master farmer and a preacher of the Gospel for almost half a century.

1898—REV. JOSEPH J. BOWSER of York, Pa., who is a special agent for the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, spent Alumni Week on the College campus. As an evidence of his activity, we can say he sold $60,000 worth of life insurance in June. C. A. STUDEBAKER of Tippecanoe City, Ohio, while visiting the College at Commencement time, informed us that he has been farming since attending Juniata College. His special lines are caring for a thousand leghorn hens, fifteen Guernsey cows, five hundred peach trees, along with some fruit, berries, etc. He is father of seven children, five of whom are college graduates, one a high school graduate, and the other student is in high school. He has also seven grandchildren. MRS. JESSIE SMITH BENTLEY recently resigned her position as a member of the staff at the Kingsley House Social Settlement at Pittsburgh, to go to Egypt as a missionary. She sailed on the liner "Exorchorda" on July 19. Her work will be in the American Mission Hospital at Assiut, 235 miles south of Cairo, Egypt. Mrs. Bentley has been at the Kingsley House for the past ten years. Prior to this she was a teacher for a number of years. Before taking up her work in Egypt, she plans a month's vacation traveling to Gibraltar, Naples, and possibly the Holy Land. She spent some time at Camp Sidibiski in Alexandria, maintained by the United Presbyterian Board.

1901—J. W. OATES, chief engineer of the Masonic Homes, Elizabethtown, sailed June 25 for a two months' cruise abroad. He sailed on the French liner "Paris." He planned to visit the Azores and Madera Islands, Portugal, Ireland, Denmark, Norway, Holland, France, and England.

1902—CLARENCE E. FAHRNEY is an agriculturist at Mapleville, Maryland. A. LLOYD GNAGEY is a banker at Arcanum, Ohio. According to the report of POSTMASTER J. O. BERGANTZ, the Huntingdon postoffice operates on a profit to Uncle Sam. Huntingdon is listed as a first-class postoffice, of which there are 1,136 in the United States. The class of a postoffice is determined by the receipts of that office, which must be more than $40,000 in order to give first-class rating. There are thirty employees in the Huntingdon postoffice.

1903—MRS. JOHN A. BROUS, nee ELLA HAMPTON of Ithan, Pa., reports that her husband is a painter. Her son, John Russell is a certified dairyman at the Ardrouseau Farms at Ithan. Of her twin daughters Ruth, and Naomi, Ruth is a seamstress and Naomi is married to Walter Mortimer, who is an electrician for the A. O. Company at Southbridge, Massachusetts. Her oldest son, George Ellis, died five years ago at the age of 24. All of her children attended the Radnor High School, Wayne, Pa. OLIVE REFLOGLE REBER of Charlottesville, Virginia, was recently elected as the State Director of the Department of Peace under the W. C. T. U. organization of that state. In addition to that, she is the director of the local Youth Temperance Council. These in addition to her home duties keep her very busy.

1904—For the past eight years, MARY S. BENNETT has been acting as postmistress of Artemas in addition to caring for her aged father, Rev John Bennett, who is in his eighty-eighth year. PROF. J. W. YODER spent about two weeks delivering commencement addresses at a number of high schools throughout the state. The theme of these addresses was, "Prevues of American Opportunity."

1907—In the January issue of the Hotel Monthly, hotel magazine published in Chicago, HARRY W. WAGNER, part owner and manager of Hotel Huntingdon and Hotel Lewistown, is the author of an article entitled, "The Fireproofedest Hotel in Pennsylvania." The hotel was described as one of beauty, utility, and sound construction. In the same number in which he describes the Building of the hotel, Mr. Wagner is the author of the article, "Romance in Building," which deals with the Lewistown Hotel.

1909—S. REED MORNINGSTAR, president of the Morningstar bakeries, recently received a large plaque as a cake winning trophy on which was placed: "Northwestern Pennsylvania Bakers Association Cake Trophy For Wholesale Bakers, Pittsburgh Zone, Won By Morningstar Bakeries." This was won in recognition of their quality cakes entered in the "Better Cake" contest at the Northwest Pennsylvania Bakers' Association Convention held at Conneaut Lake. Hundreds of cakes were entered in the contest by as many bakers. These cakes were judged on flavor, texture, and keeping qualities. That is why you see the label "Morningstar's Trophy Winner Cake"—not because Morningstar says they are better cakes but because nine impartial judges proved by tests that they are better. ELDA WERTZ is serving as secretary of a Mission Sunday School which is being conducted at Arbutus Park by the Walnut Grove Church of the Brethren. The school has been in operation for three years with an average attendance of 85.

1911—MILDRED NEFF, supervisor at the J. C. Blair Memorial Hospital, Huntingdon, spent most of her month's vacation in July at her home in Alexandria.

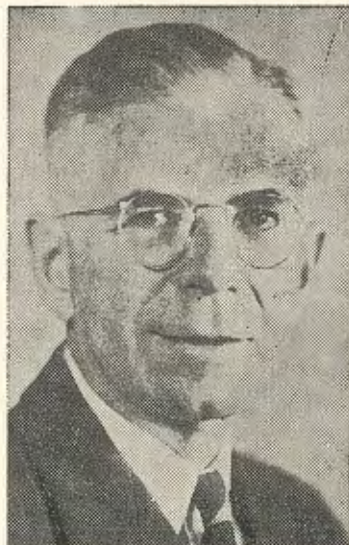

1916—J. GLENN CASSEL is an accountant in East Orange, New Jersey. His mailing address is 30 S. Oraton Parkway.

1917—JOHN C. BAKER, who is Associate Director of Research in the Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University, has just written a volume entitled "Executive Salaries and Bonus Plans." It is published by the McGraw-Hill Book Company and represents the results of research in an entirely new field using statistical data recently made available by the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission. Mr. Baker, who is also a member of the Board of Trustees of Juniata College, has offered through this treatise a basis for economic reasoning in an area hitherto neglected by economist theorists.

1918—Friends of EVELYN RUTH HEMPHILL will be interested in noting the change in her name and address to Mrs. Elverton E. Norton, Holstein, Iowa.

1919—RAYMOND A. MICKEL, teacher and administrator at Western Reserve Academy, Hudson, Ohio, has been re-elected to the town council, and last December was elected superintendent of the Congregational Sunday School, both of which give him added and varied responsibilities.

1921—The First Vice-President of the Central National Bank of Richmond, Virginia, is ROBERT C. BAKER. His mailing address is the Commonwealth Club. A very attractive booklet, "Beachley, A Name Association with the American Living Room for Fifty Years," came to our desk recently. It tells the story of the existence of the Beachley Furniture Company since 1887. Ezra Beachley, the founder of the company, was a grandfather of DONOVAN R. BEACHLEY, who is now the successful president of the company, known as the Beachley-Reighard Furniture Company. "Quality First," the aim of its founder, is still the guiding star back of the company which carries his name today.

1924—ELIZABETH MYERS of Ardmore is spending the summer months with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Snider of Huntingdon. CATHERINE BENSON motored to San Diego, California, to spend most of her vacation with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. Benson. While there she is attending the San Diego Teachers College for six weeks.

1925—MRS. HELEN HESS MIERLEY, teacher in the Huntingdon schools, is attending the summer session at the Pennsylvania State University, State College. HARRIET MILLER, who is attending the summer session of Juniata College, taught third grade in the Antis Township schools for the past nine years. JOHN C. STONE and his sister ADRA STONE '27, of Huntingdon, enrolled in the summer session of the Pennsylvania State University, at State College.

1926—DR. TOBIAS F. HENRY of Johnstown received the degree of PhD from the University of Pittsburgh in June, 1938. He majored in religious education and wrote his thesis on the subject, "The Development of Religious Education in the Church of the Brethren in the United States." The main body of this thesis consisted of a history of the Sunday School movement in the Church of the Brethren. The Brumbaugh brothers of Huntingdon and Juniata College were leading influences in the establishment of Sunday Schools in the church in the decades following 1870. Dr. Henry Graduated from the Replogle High School of New Enterprise; and Cove High School Martinsburg. He taught three terms of public school, one in the grades and two in the high school of his native township, South Woodbury. Dr. Henry received his A.B. degree from Juniata in 1926; B.D. from Bethany Biblical Seminary in 1928; and an A.M. degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1934. He is pastor of the Roxbury Church of the Brethren, Johnstown, which position he held since 1929. He is a member of the Lions Club, past president of the Johnstown Ministerial Association, president of the Cambria County Sunday School Association, moderator elect of the Western District of the Church of the Brethren of Pennsylvania, and recently was a Standing Committee delegate to the annual church conference held at Lawrence, Kansas, and is president of the Western District Ministerial Board. His wife will be remembered as ALMA G. KOONTZ, student in 1926. WILLIAM S. LIVENGOD, Jr., of Somerset, received the Republican nomination as Secretary of Internal Affairs, in the primaries held in May. DR. C. R. PENTZ, who is physician in the U. S. Navy at Long Beach, Calif., attended the National Convention of the American Medical Association, which was held in San Francisco in June. Last fall with his wife, his daughter Joanne, aged seven, and son Paul, aged two, he made an eastern trip via Detroit, where he purchased a new car, and then visited relatives and friends in the East, and returned to California via a southern route. I. NEWTON TAYLOR was again elected Chairman of the Huntingdon County Republican Committee at the biennial meeting of the committee following a dinner held in Huntingdon, June 2. SHELDON DALY of Brookline, Mass. is the state head of the F. H. A. On February 19 of this year, SILAS H. SHOEMAKER received his Master's degree in Philosophy from the University of Pennsylvania. JAMES I. WEIMER is back on the job as insurance broker after having spent two months in Germany, France, and Switzerland.

FELLOW ALUMNI:

At the present time various cities as well as large industries throughout the nation are featuring the National Sales Crusade, the chief purpose being to stimulate business by having individual employees put forth special effort to increase sales.

At this, the beginning of a new year for our Alumni Association, what could be more fitting than that we as the Alumni of Juniata College adopt a National Sales Crusade, a crusade to advertise and sell Juniata College to the general public. A successful salesman must be thoroughly familiar with his product. It follows that those of us who have been privileged to attend Juniata College, and know the advantages the College has to offer the youth of today, are the ones who must sell Juniata College.

The College can do a limited amount of advertising, but each one of us can render service to the College far more valuable than paid advertising by the personal interest which we show in the College to those with whom we associate.

During the summer months when young people in your community are deciding on the college to which they wish to go, all of us have a great opportunity to sell them the advantages our college has to offer.

I trust I may have your continued support throughout the coming year, and that, with your cooperation both individually and through the activities of your local association, we may have the best year in the history of the Alumni Association of Juniata College.

Very sincerely yours,
HENRY B. GIBBEL.

old station in Kankiang until these calamities are past. Our means of transportation are irregular and delayed, but we are glad we have not had to leave China. Pray for her in all her distress. God is working his purpose but even though so different from our thought, and we look for even great things in the future. I am grateful for all Juniata news which comes from the College." A. L. RAIRICH is employed in a department store at East Orange, New Jersey. MARY KNAPP STEFFEN of Blairstown, New Jersey made a brief visit to the College campus on May 25. REV. EUGENE McCABAN, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Arch Spring, was director of the Presbyterian camp at Camp Myler during June. Mrs. McCahan will be remembered as Dorothy Fouse '28.

In June they visited in Warton, Ontario, Canada, where the family was called due to the serious illness of their grandmother.

1935—SUSIE CRIFE is a teaching nurse in the Homestead Hospital, Homestead, Pa. On June 22, JANE GEHRETT, of Huntingdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Gehrett, both graduates of Juniata College, received a PhD degree in Chemistry from Yale University. Her particular field of research, carried on under the direction of Professor J. J. Donleavy, was devoted to finding new methods for the preparation of the so-called exocyclic amino-pyrimidines. This class of substances is closely related to the two important medicinal compounds, ergot and Vitamin B 1, very important in the digestion of sugar and in the proper functioning of tissue in general. In particular it prevents the neural-digestive ailment known as beri-beri and is believed by some authorities to be a palliative for arthritis. In the course of her work, Miss Gehrett successfully prepared over two dozen different pyrimidines, some of which had not previously been known. She was chosen a member of Sigma Psi, the national honorary scientific society. She received the appointment of instructor in organic chemistry in the New Jersey College for Women, the women's division of Rutgers University, at New Brunswick, New Jersey. The early part of her vacation was spent in Connecticut, Massachusetts, and New Hampshire.

WEDDINGS

Juniatians unite in extending their heartiest congratulations and best wishes to the following couples:

MILLER-HECK—Mr. Kenneth E. Miller of Altoona, and Miss Jessie Heck of Huntingdon, both of the Class of 1936, were married Friday evening, January 21, 1938, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride, 512 Twelfth Street, by the Rev. A. B. Bunn Van Ormer. The attendants were Miss Charlotte Mattern of Huntingdon and Mr. Henry C. Bowman of Altoona. Mrs. Miller completed her term of school in the grades of Penn Township, while Mr. Miller is instructor of Chemistry and Physical Science at Roaring Spring High School.

BEYERS-LIGHTNER—Miss Mary Louise Lightner, Junior at Juniata College, became the bride of Mr. William Everett Beyers, of Indiana, Pa., on Saturday afternoon, June 25, 1938, at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was solemnized in the First Baptist Church, Mount Union, by the pastor, the Rev. James H. Taylor, the ring ceremony being used. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Eleanor Hurwitz was maid of honor, and Miss Emogene Lunn, of Indiana, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Mr. Howard Zeigler, of Indiana, was best man. Following the ceremony, they left for New York City where they are both studying at the New York University during the summer. The groom is head of the mathematics department of the Mount Union High School.

FITCH-SHOEMAKER—Mr. George Fitch of Coalport, and Miss Eleanor Shoemaker, of Fairmont, West Virginia, both graduates of Juniata College '35, were united in marriage on Saturday, July 23, at Shinnston, West Virginia, by the Rev. Father Eagan. They were attended by Miss Mary Alice Kette, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Edward Fitch, brother of the groom. The bride was secretary for the M. W. Kellogg Company of New York City, while the groom was a mathematics teacher in the Beccaria Township High School. NECROLOGY

Juniatians extend their sympathy to the friends of the following deceased members of the Juniata family:

According to information received from Dr. C. C. Briggs, MR. HAROLD D. KELLY, student at Juniata College, 1907-08, recently died at his home in Pittsburgh. Mr. Kelly was born in Orbisonia and following two terms at Juniata, attended Pennsylvania State and Columbia universities. For the past fifteen years he has been a teacher in the Pittsburgh schools. He leaves a wife and two children, a boy four, and a girl seven.

Services were held Memorial Day night, 1938, at the Westwood Reformed Church for the late MISS DELLA ELIZABETH GAGE, of Westwood, New Jersey. Death resulted from an acute intestinal obstruction. Miss Gage was graduated from the Westwood High School in 1929, after which she spent two years at Juniata, and then took a position in New York, first with the McMillan Company, and then with the National City Bank. She is survived by her parents, and a younger sister, Edith.

MRS. MIRIAM SNADER KNUPP, wife of William J. Knupp, of Waynesboro, died suddenly July 28 following a tonsilectomy at the Waynesboro hospital. Mrs. Knupp was a graduate of Waynesboro High School, Class of 1928, and of Juniata College in the Home Economics department, Class of 1932. Since graduation, she has served as a substitute teacher in the home economic department at Waynesboro High School, and this past January was elected to fill the vacancy in the department in the senior and junior high school.

On Tuesday evening, July 5, PROF. H. D. METZGER of Bedford succumbed at his home. Although not well for two weeks previous, suffering from a heart ailment, he was at his office as usual until 4 P. M. Following the supper, he lay down on the davenport to read the newspaper stating to his family that he felt much better. A short time after, his unconscious body was discovered by his wife. He passed away before a physician could arrive. Mr. Metzger was born in New Enterprise, August 21, 1869. He married Miss Alice Teeter, on March 5, 1892. He taught in the schools of Bedford at the age of 19, and was graduated from Juniata College, in the Normal English department, Class of 1896. He taught and acted as principal in the schools of Defiance, Saxton, and Hyndman, and in 1915 was appointed by Superintendent Lloyd Hinkle as assistant superintendent of schools of Bedford County, serving continuously until the time of his death. Just recently he had received a reappointment for four years. For more than a decade he was chairman of the Bedford County Chapter of the Red Cross, was active in the Loysburg Grange many years, the Everett Masonic Lodge, Bedford Lodge 202, I. O. O. F., and the Charlesville P. O. S. of A. 412. He was an active teacher in the Trinity Lutheran Sunday School, and also conducted the music since 1916. Besides his wife, he leaves two children, C. Irvin Metzger in the Altoona High School, and Effie M. wife of Robert Hershberger, at home; also, one grandchild. Following a brief service in the Metzger home, the body was taken to the Progressive Brethren Church at New Enterprise, where Rev. G. I. Melhorn, assisted by the Rev. David Detwiler, and Rev. E. M. Detwiler conducted the memorial service with interment in the adjoining cemetery.

Two years ago we were saddened at the loss of the President of our Board of Trustees, Mr. J. J. Oller of Waynesboro, Pa. Mrs. Oller at that time was not in good health and the months since had sadly depleted her strength until on August fifth she went quietly on to join him for whose welfare she was always so tenderly solicitous and to whom she was a help-meet indeed. She and Brother Oller together built a Christian home whose influence directly and through their children reached out not only with rich beneficence into the home community, but farther away—indeed to the very ends of the earth.

Their contribution to Juniata College can never be measured, for they gave to it not only of their material wealth but their children as well. One of these, Mr. Jack E. Oller, has been a member of the faculty for a number of years.

The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, August 8th, and were in charge of her pastor, Rev. Levi K. Ziegler assisted by Dr. Charles C. Ellis, President of the College. Dr. Galen B. Royer ('22, '24) also had part in the service.

The College and the Alumni Association extend their sincere sympathy in this bereavement to Miss Rello Oller ('18, '20), Mr. J. F. Oller ('18), and Mr. Jack E. Oller, ('19, '23).

Class Reunions

Golden Anniversary Class

The Golden Anniversary Class of 1888 met on the College campus for its reunion. All of the members of the class were on the platform for the memorial service for the late Dr. I. Harvey Brumbaugh which was held in the College chapel, Saturday morning, June 4. Of the ten who graduated fifty years ago, four are still living. Three of these were present for the reunion. The class was entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Calvert N. Ellis for their reunion Saturday evening.

Those in attendance were: Noah J. Brumbaugh and wife, Rosa (Flory) Ex. '97, Washington, D. C.; Grace (Quinter) Holsopple, and her husband, Dr. Frank F. Holsopple '91, Washington, D. C.; and John B.
